MASTERMINDS

Collaborate and learn practical wisdom from top-producing agents and leaders in an all-day brainstorming session.

In 2017 and 2015, Keller Williams was ranked as the number one training and coaching organization across all industries in the world. In 2016 and 2014, KW held the number two spot on the Training Top 125.

"For 35 years, Gary Keller has been saying we're a training and coaching organization disguised as a real estate company," Keller Williams President and CEO John Davis said. "Thanks to his vision and commitment to investing in our people, we've been able to help our associates grow their businesses and create opportunities to fund their lives."

Created in 2008, the global Training Top 10 Hall of Fame recognizes organizations that demonstrate outstanding, effective, long-term employer-sponsored workforce training and human capital development.

"It's difficult enough to attain a Top 10 ranking for four consecutive years; achieving the No. 1 or 2 spot for all four years is a stellar achievement that has only been accomplished four times in the last decade," said Lorri Freifeld, editor-in-chief, Training magazine.

By placing training at its core, Keller Williams is providing new agents and top producers alike with the resources and tools they need to succeed. The company's learning-based culture starts at the top, with the models and systems that Co-founder and Chairman Gary Keller developed and has shared through his bestselling books. President and CEO John Davis continued the legacy by introducing agent growth and production tools.

Dedication to World-Class Training

Keller Williams invests heavily in its training programs and initiatives.

Keller Williams University provides an industry-leading curriculum addressing every aspect of success in real estate. Each learning track is built on proven KW models and systems, fortified by the wisdom of innovative visionaries and delivered by a master faculty consisting of market leaders and emerging trendsetters. Through the KWU portal on KWConnect, agents can access multimedia training and register for facilitator-led workshops or sign up for international training and coaching events.

KW MAPS Coaching, an in-house coaching program, has had a proven track record of success recognized by the PRISM Award for Excellence and the Stevie Awards. In 2017, enrollment in KW MAPS programs increased 55 percent to 66,503 people. Due to demand, the number of highly skilled coaches leading the MAPS programs has increased 53 percent this year to 328.

"Our proven coaching programs focus intently on enhancing both the skills and mindset of our associates," says KW MAPS CEO Dianna Kokoszka. "We believe the coach/client relationship is one of partnership."

Business Objective: a Life by Design (BOLD) is a lynchpin of KW training and a key driver of profitability for all who enroll. BOLD graduates average over 14 contracts during the seven-week class, a stellar figure compared to the industry average of 9 transactions per year. Since its inception in 2009, 131,220 agents have completed BOLD, and its popularity continues to soar, with 27,782 attendants in 2017 alone.

KW Labs is a transformative program that enables real estate agents to build, test and define technology that will run and grow their businesses.

The KellerINK publishing group produces books that inspire and instruct. The Millionaire Real Estate Agent, which has sold over a million copies to date, was the first to lay out organizational, economic and lead generation principles for real estate agents. Since its release, KellerINK has published five additional bestselling books; each based on exhaustive research and proven results.

In addition, KW's annual training conventions attract tens of thousands of attendees who voluntarily take themselves out of their businesses for days at a time so they can connect with peers and learn from top producers. Indeed, Keller Williams' success owes much to its deeply rooted culture of collaborative learning and sharing. Leaders at every level are learning from the best of the best, and then passing along those insights to all of the company's associates so they can prosper.

A Bright Future

With the addition of Keller Williams, Training magazine's Hall of Fame consists of 16 companies: Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan; Booz Allen Hamilton; Capital BlueCross; CHG Healthcare; Deloitte LLP; Ernst & Young; Farmers Insurance; IBM; Jiffy Lube International; Keller Williams; KLA-Tencor; KPMG LLP; McCarthy Building Companies; PwC; SCC Soft Computer; and Verizon.

"We are delighted to join the great companies who are in the Training 125 Hall of Fame and are honored by the recognition. It celebrates the success of our associates and proves that together we can achieve more," said KWU Director Stacia Thompson.

"At Keller Williams, our mission statement isn't just something we say. It's an action plan. Every day, we are taking steps to bring innovative, world-class training that further ignites our associates' businesses."

WI4C2TS

The Keller Williams belief system the WI4C2TS, play an important role in bringing like-minded individuals to the company and influence the decisions made at all levels of the organization.

An Open Book Policy

There are no secrets and Keller Williams Realty. Every associate has a stake in the financial success of Keller Williams so every associate has the right to see the numbers reflected in their market center's operations.

Stanford University: A Cultural Case Study

“Keller Williams believes that agents are stakeholders in the success of the market center and therefore should share in decision making. Together, they [top agents and office leadership] jointly make office decisions relating to financial planning, recruiting and retention, marketing and advertising, training, technology, social events, and philanthropic giving.”

Shared Decisions.

The Keller Williams model is built around the premise that associates should be treated like stakeholders, because together, everyone achieves more.

Wealth Building

Spread the Word and Build a Stream of Income

Through our profit share (US & Canada) and the growth share (Worldwide) programs, Keller Williams recognizes and rewards associates for helping to grow the company.

Keller Williams owners have shared more than $703 MILLION since 1997. In 2015, Keller Williams owners shared more than $129.8 MILLION in profits.

That's $353,424 per DAY.

Profit share is one way in which Keller Williams Realty exemplifies the principle of success through others. Each month, market centers share roughly half of their profits with the agents who helped grow the market center and make it profitable. But in order for there to be profit share, there must first be success.

Since the inception of the profit share program, KW has distributed more than $1 billion to associates who have helped the company grow!

And, thanks to the company's recent growth and agent production gains, it has distributed more profit share in the past four years than in the preceding 21 years combined.

The historic achievement comes as Keller Williams is closing in on its most successful profit share year yet. Through the first 10 months of the year, KW has shared $151.9 million with associates in the United States and Canada, an increase of 14.1 percent compared with the same period in 2016. (Keller Williams associates outside of the United States and Canada participate in a similar program called "growth share.")

Individual Keller Williams market center owners share roughly 50 percent of their office's monthly profits with associates who have helped the business grow. As of Oct. 31, 98 percent of Keller Williams market centers were profitable for the year. Moreover, a record four market centers had already distributed $1 million or more this year. There are also individual agents who have received seven-figure distributions.

In the six years since Keller Williams launched its companywide Growth Initiative, profit share payouts have grown substantially:

$154.4 million in 2016	$129.8 million in 2015
$98.1 million in 2014	$78.2 million in 2013
$55.3 million in 2012	$38.3 million in 2011

Keller Williams Co-Founder and CEO Gary Keller and early company leaders created the profit share program to ensure the goals of KW owners and agents remain permanently aligned. Innumerable lives have been changed as a result.

Associate Leadership Council

The Keller Williams ALC or Agent Leadership Council is made up of the top 20% of agents in each office. This dynamic 'board of directors' is actively involved in the leadership decisions that make the office more productive and profitable.

Joey Smith
CalDRE #01227717

I have been in real estate since 2003. I was originally licensed in New York City when I lived in Williamsburg, Brooklyn and started working in leasing and property management. I started working in real estate after my first daughter was born (2003). I was working as a corporate archivist, which was satisfying but a very lonely, quiet job- and I wanted a more flexible schedule. I always loved real estate, so it was a great fit. A few weeks in and I was hooked. I loved working with people, getting to go out on appointments instead of being stuck in an office and getting to see hundreds of very quirky, interesting or unique New York City apartments. I love what I do, and it is important to me to bring ethics, excellence and enthusiasm to everything I do. I enjoy reading about real estate, learning more, studying neighborhood demographics and sales statistics. I have a deep appreciation for the sense of community one can find in neighborhood and I work hard in my own neighborhood to connect neighbors and resources.

Jill Cherne
CalDRE #01731991

I entered the Real Estate Profession with over 20 years of marketing and business negotiation experience in the high tech industry. I am now enjoying my 12th year in Real Estate Sales and have been recognized as a 5-Star Real Estate Agent in the East Bay Area 6 years running. I have an undeniable passion for real estate and an unparalleled dedication to excellence in client services. I developed this working alongside my family; I am the daughter of a Real Estate Broker and a General Contractor, both with over 60 years serving Alameda and Contra Costa Counties. This exposure afforded me an appreciation and understanding of many aspects of the Real Estate industry. Being a teacher at heart I am pleased to share my knowledge and experience with my clients and to help guide, educate and represent them through the challenges of real estate transactions. I'm an organized innovative professional who employs a tireless work ethic. My business has doubled year over year for the past 3 years and I'm happy to be building a team that will continue a pattern of providing exceptional service to my clients with their success and happiness always at the forefront of our efforts.
